

FREDERICK DOUGLASS RENEWAL SCHOLARSHIP

Administered by The Erie Community Foundation, based on recommendations of an Advisory Committee comprising of the donors + a member selected by the donors + a certified teacher and an administrator nominated by the Superintendent of the City of Erie Public School District.

WHO WAS FREDERICK DOUGLASS?

Frederick Douglass was a self-educated man, born a slave in Maryland in 1817. In his youth he worked as a household servant, a plantation field hand, and a shipyard apprentice, before escaping to the north in 1838. While working in the shipyards of New Bedford, MA, Mr. Douglass began speaking out for abolition and social reform. After English friends purchased his freedom in 1847, he moved to Rochester, New York, where he co-founded an anti-slavery newspaper. After the Civil War, Douglass was appointed to several government posts in Washington, DC, and he later served as American Minister to Haiti. He died in 1895.

Frederick Douglass was a person disadvantaged by birth who combined native intelligence and can-do attitude to fulfill his potential in spite of overwhelming obstacles.

The Frederick Douglass Scholarship was established to help African American youth in the City of Erie obtain a college education needed for productive (and living wage) adult careers, thus following the example that Frederick Douglass set of fulfilling their potential.
